Fifty-Seventh Year Canyon, Texas Wednesday, November 5, 1952 Number 30

Architect Urges Haste Building Of New School

Larry Perkins of Chicago was here Thursday to confer with members of the school board, who met with Supt. Joe Gibson regarding the erection of a new school plant in Canyon.

The college has agreed to allow the use of the education building by the Canyon Independent School District until the fall of 1955. "With building conditions as they are, this year is not too early to start planning for the new plant, and letting a contract at least 15 months before the building will be needed," stated Mr. Perkins. It was pointed out that buildings require at least one year more time to build than under normal conditions when materials and labor are plentiful.

Mr. Perkins advised that a committee of at least 50 local citizens take up the building program and decide what matter of plant shall be erected. "The children cannot wait; they are the children of this community, who have a right for an adequate education. The school board cannot act until the people tell them what they demand, and what money will be available for the building," stated Perkins.

The present school plant was highly praised. The buildings will continue to give good service for many years if properly cared for, stated Perkins.

The school board has bought 17 acres in the south part of Canyon for a new plant. There are four full blocks in the west part of Canyon in the present school plant.

Officers Elected By Livestock Association

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association met November 3 in the Canyon High School cafeteria. Harley Burrus, president, presided. Newton Harrell presented the program of moving pictures taken while on his recent big game hunt in Africa.

In the general business meeting new officers and directors were elected. The officers are: T. A. Black, president; Glenn Dowlen, vice-president; and W. E. Miller, secretary-treasurer. New members on the board of directors are: Richmond Hales, Harry Hungate, Ross Craig, and Ralph Ruthart. Two directors were re-elected to serve. They are J. O. Parker and Ed Bourn.

Following the meeting about 100 members and guests were served coffee and doughnuts.

There will be an executive meeting on November 17 in the office of the Randall County Agent. The plans for a spring Junior Livestock show will be laid. It is estimated that there will be 30 calves and 40 hogs ready for the show. The new executive members include the new officers and J. O. Parker and Dr. M. R. Callihan.

World Day of Prayer Observed In Meeting

On October 28 the World Day of Prayer was held in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hungate. Attending were 31 women of the Methodist church.

"The Call of God" was the theme of the program conducted by the Spiritual Life Secretary of W.S.C.S. Mrs. M. L. Sherrod. The group participated in songs and quiet Bible readings. There was also a discussion of the different places that are assisted by the offering taken at such occasions. The service of the day was completed by a candle lighting service of dedication.

At the noon hour a covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by those present. Special thanks and appreciation were expressed by all to Mrs. Hungate for such an inspiring day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Duncan, Misses Johnnie Courtney and Irene Angel spent Sunday in Lubbock.

Chest X-ray Unit To Be Here Four Days Next Week

One of the worthwhile programs to be staged this month in Canyon will be the chest X-ray service to be held November 12, 13, 14 and 15. Some of the people working to promote a big turnout are Glenn Waggoner, Chamber of Commerce manager; R. B. Allen, accountant; Dr. Walter H. Juniper, dean of West Texas State College, and Joe A. Gibson, superintendent of Canyon Public Schools. In addition to these men many other people will be working to impress the importance of chest X-ray upon the general public.

Brochures will be delivered in which the importance of stamping out tuberculosis is explained. It is a reminder that there are probably two million in the United States today who have tuberculosis of the lungs. One of the safest ways to make sure you are not one of them is to have a chest X-ray. It's a free service, except for the taxes you've already paid, requires less time than checking the air of your automobile tires, and is vastly important.

Many victims of tuberculosis can be completely cured if they catch the disease in its early stage. This is one of the important reasons for having your chest X-rayed even though there are no visible signs of the disease in your case.

On November 12-13, the Health Department Association will have its X-ray unit at the American Legion Hall from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening. Then on November 14 and 15 it will move to the campus of West Texas State and locate in the old agriculture shop. On November 14 it will open from 1 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon and on the 15th from 8 to 12 o'clock in the morning.

Main purpose of the drive is to discover tuberculosis in its early stage. If it can be caught at this time it can be cured. Everyone 15 years of age or over are urged to have their chest X-rayed.

This work is being carried on in the community through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, West Texas State College, Canyon Public Schools, American Legion, and numerous other people.

Opening Night Is Big for BIT Play

"Good Housekeeping," a Branding Iron Theatre production that opened Monday night to run through Wednesday had a packed crowd with some standing for its first performance.

Those having parts do a brilliant job of putting the play over. It is also exceedingly timely as one of the main threads that holds it together is politics.

Ruth Harmon and Fred Salmans have the leading female and male parts. Others who turned in top notch performances were Dick Houston, Zelda Mae Walker, Jerry Williams, Bobby Vandergriff, Carol Evans, and Louise Zybach.

"No Housing Shortage Here!"

Revival Services At Baptist Church Starting Sunday

"Revival in Canyon" is the goal of the members of the First Baptist Church as they begin an eight-day series of revival services Sunday, November 9.

At 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the church, will launch the revival effort and set the pace of the services when he will preach on the subject, "I Want To Be A Christian Because..."

Rev. Atkinson will direct the revival and do the preaching in all of the services.

Early morning services will be held at 7 o'clock and will be preceded by serving coffee, hot chocolate, and pastries in the basement of the church. These services will be held at this hour and will be dismissed at 7:50 so that many of the members may attend and still be on time for work and school.

All evening services except Sunday will begin at 7:30. The program for the evening will include a 30 minute program of congregational singing, trios, quartets, instrumental and choir music. Dennis Lyle, educational director of the church, will be in charge of the music.

The people of Canyon are cordially invited to attend all of these services.

City Seeks More Traffic Lights

Mayor A. L. Walsh and the City Commission are making every effort to get additional stop and go traffic lights on Highway 87 to slow traffic down to the speed limit prescribed by law. Mayor Walsh recently made another request for such traffic control to James G. Lott, District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department at Amarillo.

The Amarillo office does not have the final say in such matters but in a letter received by the mayor from that office it was explained that this office could make a survey. The results of this survey will be turned over to the State Highway Department at Austin. Lott went on to explain that the department in Austin is governed by the code adopted by the department in conformance with the Uniform Traffic Law in Texas.

Reception To Honor Methodist Pastor

Everyone is invited to attend a reception being given at the Methodist Church Thursday night in honor of the new pastor, Rev. Lester L. Hill and his wife.

The reception is being sponsored by the W. S. C. S. and the Wesleyan Service Guild of the church.

No Moisture Falls During October

No moisture fell in Canyon during the entire month of October. So far this year there has been a total of only 11.47 inches of moisture in Canyon, which sets a new low record.

A light shower fell here Monday night which measured only .09 of an inch of moisture.

Case Postponed From Monday p. m.

The case of Julia Mae Peters vs. Carl Hair and wife was started Monday in District Court. The case was postponed Tuesday until this morning, as Judge Henry S. Bishop advised all jurors and court employees to take the day off to vote.

This is a case for possession of the Mahle children, which were previously awarded to Mrs. Hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Detten and sons, Dick, Ray and Joe, with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Detten of St. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilkins and son, Paul, of Nauvoo, Ill., visited in the Frank Grabber home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Olie Ford of Dallas were visitors in the P. M. Wilson home over the week-end. Mr. Wilson returned home with them after having visited in Dallas and vicinity for the past four weeks.

General Eisenhower swept the nation in the general election Tuesday. The Republican candidate won the electoral vote in all but Southern and Border states, and moved in to take Texas and Florida from the South as he cracked the vote of the Solid South.

Governor Stevenson lost both his home state of Illinois and the home state of President Truman, Missouri, in the landslide which developed for his party. The Democrats failed to carry the strong labor states, as was counted upon during the campaign. The upset was truly a smashing victory for General Eisenhower, which none of the pollsters foresaw or dared to predict.

October Building Permits Zoom Over September

Building permits for the month of October rocketed past the September total by $32,100. The ten permits that were issued during October totaled $44,300 as compared with a September total of $12,200.

Six of the ten permits were for residences. There were two permits for additions to residences and one for a lumber shed and an addition to a flower shop.

As a general rule when the weather begins to get colder building drops off but this year as mid-autumn came building climbed.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

How It All Happened
Good Future Dope

Starting this morning, day after the election, the air waves and the newspapers will be filled with dope explaining just how it all happened during the election yesterday.

Starting January 20, 1953, we shall change horses. A new occupant will be in the White House at Washington.

We shall not have much of a change in our government, regardless of the man who is at the helm.

One prediction which we made during the campaign has been carried out—we will have a bald-headed man in the White House. (This is the only prediction which we made during the campaign.)

We do not expect to see Washington cleaned up in a hurry; nor the fighting men recalled from Korea overnight; or taxes reduced materially; or either party with a strong control over Congress.

Maybe all of these things are right and justified.

Only the future and the pollsters can tell you exactly what is going to happen—and the latter are never sure of their predictions.

Yes, sir, it happened, and the way that it happened will be the big discussion for weeks to come.

A Good System, When
It Works on Papers

It was rather amusing to the readers of the two Amarillo newspapers to see the antics of Wes Izzard and T. E. Johnson, as the two editors of the morning and evening editions of the papers took their stands on opposite sides of political questions.

Wes Izzard, a Missourian by birth and a Democrat from childhood, was strong for Ike. Perhaps he was not so much inclined to be so strong for the General as he was against Trumanism as reflected by Governor Stevenson. He was on safe ground so far as this section is concerned. This has always been anti-Truman territory.

Johnson took the opposite side of the political question in the afternoon edition of the Globe-Times. He swore his allegiance to Stevenson as opposed to Eisenhower, in spite of the fact that most of the fellows with whom he associated in this territory were on the other side of the fence.

The staff of each paper met each afternoon, we are told, to map their campaigns during the coming day.

Wes is a more forceful writer and has by far the largest following, but T. E. Johnson is no slouch when he comes to defending his man and presenting the issues of the campaign.

A funny world after all.

Should Change the Electoral System

One thing which has been forcefully presented to the voters during the past 100 years or more is the bunglesome method which we have in America in electing a President and a Vice President.

Texas went as far as we could by eliminating the names of electors from the official ballots and voting straight for the names of president and vice president.

One silly part of our system is the fact that the name of General MacArthur appeared on two columns of the official ballot.

As the situation is, the voters of each state votes for the electors in their own state. It matters not how great the popular vote may be, it is the vote of the electors which count in a presidential campaign. A candidate may secure only a minority of the popular vote and yet be elected to his office because certain states favorable electors for this minority candidate.

Let's get down to cases and correct an error in our constitution which has long existed. Eliminate the electoral college, which is neither a congress nor a group of electors.

Truth is the goal of intelligent citizens and voters but the country; and the world, is short on intelligent on intelligent citizens.

Reading a book would not be so difficult if the writers knew more about what they wrote about, and explained it simply.

It is a poor executive who can't explain why the government should not ease regulations as they affect his business.

There are so many minorities demanding attention these days that the majority rarely gets much consideration.

If you want to be happy, never set your mind upon anything which is an the power of others to withhold.

School Situation
Cannot Wait Longer

The school situation in Canyon can no longer be postponed.

Action must be taken this year in order that the school board may build the kind of a building which the people want and need. After all, the children who are to be educated and will attend the school, are the children of the taxpayers of the Canyon Independent School District.

Education costs money, and the school board is not anxious to spend money which is entrusted to them without the advice and approval of the people who put up the money.

The present school buildings are good for many years of service, with proper care and attention. But they could fall down in a few years if allowed to be neglected. No school board is going to neglect the property of the people.

There are a lot of questions which must be answered before the school board may proceed with the building project.

President James P. Cornette has assured the school trustees that they may count on the fall of 1955 before the present facilities which are used by the Canyon Independent School District will be demanded by the Board of Regents for college work. This, of course, is based upon a normal growth of the college. If there was a sudden influx of students, the Regents might require these facilities before 1955.

However, looking ahead, it may be assumed that under normal building conditions it will require at least 15 months to build such a house as required. This makes it necessary for the school to let a contract by June, 1954.

In the meanwhile there is a vast amount of work to be accomplished. The people, themselves, must decide upon the kind of plant which will be erected—whether it shall be a strictly high school, or a combination high school and grade school. The faculty must study its needs, and the number of children who will reach scholastic age during the coming years.

By the end of this school year all of this information should be in the hands of school trustees so that no mistake will be made in drawing the plans.

The school board has bought 17 acres of land in the south part of Canyon. There are four city blocks in the present site.

The school situation in Canyon is the most vital issue confronting the citizens today. The college is the biggest asset in Canyon. But people are not going to move to Canyon unless the public school system compares favorably with the system of the college.

Whether we shall build to house and care for high school body of 500 to 700 will depend entirely upon the will of the taxpayers.

The Canyon News hopes to give you information during the coming months which will be of great value to all citizens upon this vital question of public education and the school system.

One thing is very clear to all who have looked at the question squarely—education for the children cannot wait. The children are here and will be knocking at the door of our schools. It is simply up to the adults of this community to provide for these children.

New Cabinet Will Take Over Jan. 20

The dopesters will now have the fun of predicting who will be members of the cabinet when the new president takes over.

There have been so many predictions that we do not wish to join the parade and add our two bits worth to the predictions.

Frankly, we do not know who will constitute the next cabinet.

All that we hope for is the strongest cabinet possible, and a definite action by members of this cabinet when it is announced.

We shall see just what we shall see.

Dr. Mack Says Bonny Scotland A Prosperous, Vigorous Land

Perhaps no travelogue could be written which would fascinate the reader more than to hear Dr. Mattie Mack tell of her visit to Scotland and the annual Edinburgh Festival during last summer's vacation period.

Dr. Mack accompanied her Scottish born, artist husband, A. W. Mack on a visit to his home in Edinburgh during the three-week celebration of international character which has been a major European summer attraction for the past four years.

The festival takes place during the last two weeks in August and the first week of September and features ballet, opera, drama, orchestra, art exhibitions, and spectacular military tattoo, all running simultaneously. Horse shows, Highland games, and many athletic contests were of equal interest to the millions who attended the world-wide exhibition of talent and fine arts.

Although much of the talent came from New York, London, and other European capitals, Scottish history and tradition was the major center of interest. The works of Sir Walter Scott and Stevenson and some recent native dramatists were produced.

Leaving Amarillo on July 14 the Macks spent one night in New York before boarding a British Overseas Airline plane for Glasgow where they arrived three days after leaving Canyon.

Dr. Mack said that the scenery in the Highlands, the Burns country, and everywhere was a great attraction to her. The historic interest of Edinburgh itself and numerous ancient capitals such as Sterling, Dunfermline, and Inverness, made one feel impelled to seek out books of history and biography, and the romances of Scott.

This was easy, she stated, because bookstores stood on every corner and the wares in such shops were cheap. This seemed to indicate that there is a large book-buying public in Scotland because the vendors seemed prosperous.

Dr. Mack recalled picking up a book of poetry which had belonged to a student and found on the fly leaf the various poetry technicalities listed. She said that this was symbolical of the regulated curriculum that is enforced in the schools of Scotland compared with American schools where a more liberal education is emphasized.

People of Scotland have a very strong nationalistic trend, and, although they are a part of the English Commonwealth and are represented in the national parliament, their first loyalty seems to be to Scotland itself.

They are quite fond of the Duke of Edinburgh.

The very jovial Scottish people are sports-minded. They are great fans of the professional football played in their country which is quite comparable to our game of soccer. It isn't surprising at all to attend a game where as many as 40,000 people will stand throughout such a contest.

Other sports which are enthusiastically supported are horse racing and dog racing. They also have bowling greens which are, in a sense, bowling alleys, as we know them, on a huge lawn.

The magnificent golf courses with their well kept greens are the pride of many a Scotsman.

"The standard of living in Scotland shows no sign of degenerating. The people seemed as vigorous as the climate; and everywhere families of sturdy and numerous children give promise of good times ahead," said Dr. Mack.

A walk in that country, with its crisp climate, is invigorating. It is doubtful if any one of the students of WT would strike out on an eight mile walk without some premeditated motive, but the people of Scotland seem to enjoy such outings.

Although they are of the small sports variety, automobiles are plentiful and most families own at least one bicycle. Farms are

Lions Hear Cobb Speak of Future Legislative Tasks

State Representative Morris Cobb of Amarillo spoke at Lions Club luncheon Wednesday. In the speech he pointed out the vast advantages enjoyed by the people who live in Texas.

Cobb also pointed out some of the tasks that would be confronting the state legislature when it meets in January. These include amendment on the ballot, water conservation, preferential primary and highway construction and maintenance. The legislature will also have to come to some decision toward giving the school teachers a raise in salary. Attention of the legislature will also have to be focused on the problem of increasing the appropriation of colleges and raising the pay of state employees.

Those problems concerning additional money appear not to disturb the members of the legislature. Cobb said there was a $29,000,000 surplus on hand at the state treasury. He added that the state would start an advertising campaign to attract industries. This campaign is to begin early in 1953.

Even though we have a huge surplus of money on hand, Cobb explained that the Texas government costs the people of Texas $45.63 per year per capita. When you compare this with surrounding states you can readily see how economical the state government is. In New Mexico it costs the people $86.34 per capita per year to operate their government, Cobb said. He also pointed out that in Oklahoma the cost was $78.91 per capita per year and in Louisiana $97.50 and in Arkansas $48.35.

rich in crops and livestock, and use up-to-date machinery.

The Scottish people have long been known for their spirit and their way of life which is seemingly based on taking things in the easy manner and enjoying every minute of it.

Dr. Mack, a slight perky red head, is a favorite among the students of West Texas who have sat in her English classes over the last 30 years enjoying her interpretations of English literature.

Local Herds Tops In Dairy Association

In the recent Randall County Dairy Herd Improvement Association two local dairy herds were tops in milk production. These were the herds of Hinders brothers and Neil Downing. The herds of these two dairymen were also among the three top herds in butter fat production.

The herds of two more Canyon dairymen also won mention in the division of cows producing butter fat. These were the herds of V. K. McCaskill and Retherford brothers.

Statistics are kept from month to month on the herds of nearly two dozen dairymen. Herds of the local dairymen rank high in every category of the statistics kept.

Figures are kept on herds high in milk production and butterfat production. Statistics are also kept on individual cows in the production of butterfat and milk.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

A survey recently conducted showed that the low birth rate of the mid-Nineteen Thirties is now being reflected in fewer high school students, but war and economic factors are resulting in more high school graduates entering college this year.

CITY TAXES

The nation's forty-one largest cities collected $2,125,000,000 in taxes from their people in the 1951 fiscal year, or an average of $61 per head, according to the Census Bureau. This was about two-thirds of the total revenue of these cities.

A football player, playing a game of four full quarters, will lose from eight to ten pounds in weight.

Jailbreak Nets Prisoner Two Hours Freedom

Excitement ran high in town for a couple of hours Friday when one of Sheriff M. E. Cantrell's prisoners pried the jail door open and escaped about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. About 3 o'clock the same afternoon the prisoner was picked up at the stockyards west of town by Cal Lovelace, local game warden, and J. R. Kirkwood, state trooper.

Cal spotted the fugitive who was hiding beneath the loading chute. Officers all over the area had been alerted by way of radio and were on the look-out for the escaped prisoner.

The prisoner, who had been waiting arraignment in the local jail, was visited earlier in the day by his parents, according to Sheriff Cantrell. Early Friday morning the prisoner asked the sheriff to be allowed to stay in the run-around outside the cell. He said he wanted to stretch his legs. Cantrell said he didn't realize the prisoner wanted to stretch his legs that much so he let him remain in the run-around.

At the time he was visited the prisoner was in a card game with another prisoner. After the prisoner's visitors left he did not desire to go on with the card game and was reported to have expressed his intention of breaking out.

PRACTICAL ILLUSTRATION

A youngster asked his father how wars began.

"Well," said the pater, "suppose America quarreled with England and —"

"But," interrupted the mother, "America mustn't quarrel with England."

"I know," he answered, "but I am taking a hypothetical instance."

"You are misleading the child," said the mother.

"No, I am not," he answered.

"Yes, you are."

"I tell you I am not! It's outrageous —"

"All right, dad," said the boy.

"Don't get excited. I think I know how wars begin."

STOOD ON HIS DIGNITY

"Hi there!" yelled the officer of the watch on the bow of a magnificent liner, "get that dirty little tub of yours out of the way."

The small man standing on the barge below stuck out his jaw aggressively.

"Are you the captain of that ship?" he demanded.

"No," returned the officer, puzzled.

"Then dashed well speak to your equals," snapped the little fellow.

"I'm the captain of this one."

WHEAT LOANS

The Agriculture Department reports that Kansas farmers have put 108,204,058 bushels of wheat under government support to September 15th, the largest amount to date since the loan program began in 1938. The previous high for Kansas to September was 65,000,000 bushels in 1941. National farmers had put 262,000,000 bushels — a record high — under support through September 15th this year, compared with 121,000,000 through the full month of September last year.

The mere fact of membership in a subversive organization, a Federal Appeals Court ruled, is not enough to discharge a Government employee. Dismissal, it was held, must be backed by reasonable grounds of disloyalty.

Governor Chapman Inspected Rotary Club Monday-Tues.

Governor Alton B. Chapman paid his official visit to the Canyon Rotary Club Monday and Tuesday. He met with officers and members of the club Monday for a business session and Tuesday spoke at the regular weekly luncheon.

The Governor's home club is Floydada, and he was in high praise of the local organization.

At the luncheon Tuesday three new members were taken into the club: Dennis Ford, Lewis Stoelzing and Rev. Jim Pickens. Jack Haley instructed the new members on their duties as Rotarians.

The Governor discussed the various functions of Rotary and the work which it was undertaking. The Rotary Foundation which provided scholarships for exchange students throughout the world is a tribute to the memory of the founder of Rotary, Paul Harris. The Canyon Club is one of those in the district which has paid its fees toward the Foundation.

Visitors Tuesday were Rev. Lester Hill, new pastor of the local Methodist Church; Dr. F. C. Glednering, Earl Hendrick, Rev. Edgar Neal, all of Hereford; Ken Bell, Stanley Crowe, Bill Dooley, M. B. Edquist, E. Jobe, W. W. Rusk, E. C. Wagner, W. L. Landers, all of Amarillo.

DEN 5 CUBS MET MONDAY

Mrs. John Robinson, den mother of Cub Scouts Den 5 expressed her appreciation early this week to the mothers of the boys in her den. The mothers supplied homemade ice cream and peanuts sold by the Cubs at the Halloween Carnival. Those who helped were Mrs. Tom Platt, Mrs. W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Reese, and Mrs. James Watts.

The boys plan to use the money they obtained at the carnival to buy games and equipment. There was also a note of thanks to the customers who patronized the boys' booth at the carnival.

When den 5 met Monday, Mrs. Robinson, den mother, called the meeting to order. The boys played the game of blowing the feather and then did some handcraft work.

Those present were Pat Watts, Dickie Campsey, Bob Watts, Joel Reese, Dewayne Prichard, Richard Green, Weldon Gray, Joe Carroll Robinson, and Tommy Joe Platt. Elo Myers was also present as a visitor and prospective member.

Public Invited to Legion Breakfast

Lee Roy Moreland, commander of the American Legion here, said early this week that all veterans and their families are invited to attend the American Legion breakfast Tuesday morning, November 11 at the Legion Hall. The breakfast is to begin at 7 o'clock but cooks and others who plan to help with the meal should be there at 5:30, Moreland said.

The time element does not allow for a speaker. The program will consist of the breakfast and group singing. It was planned this way in order to make certain that those who attend can be at work by 8 o'clock or those who attend school can be there on time. The commander also pointed out that there is no charge for the breakfast.

Regular meetings of the American Legion are held on the first Monday night of each month. Time of the beginning of these is 7:30 o'clock in the evening. At present the officials are working out the program for the year.

Miss Richardson Wanted Place Built 'Specifically For Courting'

Down on Fourth Avenue there lives a woman by the name of Miss Mary Moss Richardson, a retired English teacher of WT. In front of her house there is a low stone fence that wouldn't rate a second glance unless you happened to look close.

It is this fence that is known from Alaska to Florida as "The Freshmen Courting Fence" and for years that fence was as much a part of WT as Buffalo Stadium or a corridor of the Administration Building.

Miss Richardson, who was a faculty member from 1921 to 1943, first conceived the idea for the fence way back in 1937 and, when she mentioned the idea in one of her classes the freshmen promptly contributed the stone. The fence is exactly the height of a kitchen chair (she had them measure it) and it is decked out on top with a number of literary tiles that she brought back from Europe around 1930.

At one end of the fence which parallels the sidewalk is a pillar of stone 5 feet 10 inches high—the exact height of the teacher. The titles are embedded in the flat surface of the fence. A copper plate sealed in the pillar carries a poem by Thomas Brown called, "My Garden." Back in those days when the fence was first built it made a splash in the newspapers that was heard all over the country.

But for some reason this part of WT tradition has been almost forgotten. Forgotten by time, by the students, and by the very people who made it what it is.

But why have they forgotten? Would they forget the words of the Alma Mater? Or the sound the Victory Bell makes when it's ringing? Maybe you'd call all this flag-waving. Okay, maybe that's what it is. But that's the kind of stuff people are made of, and it looks as if people are here to stay.

We don't have a lot of traditions here at WT. Do we have to kill off the ones we have?

The fence itself isn't a thing that will compare with The Colossus of Rhodes or the Great Pyramid of Egypt. It won't even give a decent race to the Great Wall of China . . . but that fence is OURS and it is just as much a part of the school as the chow line at the cafeteria.

It's what the fence stands for that counts . . . the meaning behind this gesture by a sweet old lady who likes kids enough to do something for them . . . instead of just talk about it. And somehow it must seem faintly tragic to this old woman to watch students walk by her house not realizing, perhaps not really knowing, just what the fence is and what it stands for.

It is to all of you who have forgotten and to those who do not know the story behind the fence that this is written. The fence is, to quote Miss Richardson, "specifically for courting." A visit to the famed fence is something that will be welcomed by this teacher who has spent nearly 50 years in Texas classrooms.

Why don't you try it, kids? It was built there for you by the sweetest old woman and friend you have in the world.

Letter to The News

Dear Editor:

I have wanted to talk about this ever since I came to your town. First of all, I am middle-aged, fat and not good looking. I didn't know anyone when I came here, and the first time I walked down the street, I was amazed when teenage girls and boys spoke to me.

My work takes me by the college every day. When the young boys and girls with arms full of books smile and speak to you, it makes you know that our country is far from lost as some would have you think.

I saw a car park in front of my place and a lady was struggling with some bundles. A young man came across the street at the time, and offered to help. I looked at the license plate and it said Greenville, the largest tobacco center in the world. So it is not just home folks they are polite too.

I notice in the papers that any young folks, the law takes in, is usually passing through or from surrounding towns. So we must not let our younger generation down as they will surely come through in the end. —A Reader.

MARCH OF DIMES

The next March of Dimes campaign must collect from $50,000, 000 to $55,000,000 to meet the calls expected for patient care in 1952, according to Warren D. Coss, director of fund raising for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The 1952 March of Dimes raised over $41,000,000 but the record breaking epidemics of this year have caused a terrific drain on chapter and headquarters finances. As of October 11, cases of polio during 1952 had reached 45,233.

Just Between You, Me and... the Gatepost

(By Lawrence Hunnicutt)

People are funny and sometimes that comedy sort of pops out when you're talking to various individuals. Here's a bit of contrast that was noted last week. Probably one of the busiest men in town is Dr. Ples Harper. During the past few months he has done everything from judging beauty contests (nice work if you can get it) to teaching his classes.

Then there's a man in town who appears to have some time on his hands. The name of this fellow is Tom Beard. Last week he said that when he got into the insurance business he thought he would have a steady job. The disappointment that followed seems to be because he has about five hours between 12 o'clock midnight to 5 o'clock in the morning in which there is nothing to do. Perhaps some people were born to have lots of leisure time.

Had another report this week on Eugene Hill's work with the "Unknown" the weekly bulletin that is worked up by the students at the Methodist Student Center. They cut stencils and mimeograph the sheet and it is very cleverly made up too. Some of the other people giving notable contributions to the bulletin are Joe Ericson and Jim Pickens. The students down there are planning bigger things and if they keep up the good work they can certainly go forward to bigger and better things in the form of their publication and other achievements.

This week our visiting student is Ruth Harmon of Floydada. Ruth is a senior who transferred to West Texas State College from Pepperdine College in Los Angeles. Some of the things Ruth enjoys doing are various jobs along the lines of drama and speech.

Ruth has brown hair and blue eyes. She is 5'2" tall and weighs 115. One of the first things you notice about Ruth is her bubbling energy. She had the female lead in the coming play, "Good Housekeeping," that was given by the Branding Iron Theatre group. Miss Harmon also belongs to the Buffalo Masquers and Alpha Psi Omega.

Last summer Ruth worked with the Summer Theatre here. Although she says she enjoys her college work, she enjoys more her dramatic and Summer Theater work. After graduation Ruth either plans to go into Summer Stock work or teach drama. At present she is undecided. Whatever course she takes there's sure to be lots of success in it for her because of her huge amount of energy and vast talents in these fields. Another thing that will help her succeed is the background of her work in the Summer Theater and Buffalo Masquers.

There's an old saying that you have to take the bitter with the sweet. However, there's a consolation in the fact that all things, both good and bad, must eventually come to an end. So, we go from a perfectly charming student to that delightful (matter of opinion) part of the column called chirps of wisdom.

It was bound to happen sooner or later. An airline gave out chewing gum with this note on it, "To prevent unpleasant pressure in your ears during takeoff and landing." At the end of one run a lady passenger called the hostess over to her and said, "Please help me get this stuff out of my ears, it doesn't help a bit."

There's only one thing more expensive than education and that's ignorance.

The manicure business is falling off because too many people are biting their nails.

Most times you pay most for the things you get for nothing.

The perfume sales girl purred to the customer, "Here's something for $35 an ounce called 'Perhaps'."

The customer firmly retorted, "Lady for $35 an ounce I want 'Sure'."

Wayland Choir
To Sing Here
On December 4

PROF. SHELBY COLLIER
... Director of Wayland
International Choir

Being conductor for, dictator over and father confessor to 40 young men and women each year would wear most persons shadow thin, but not so Prof. Shelby Collier, director of Wayland College's International A Cappella Choir which will be presented at 8 o'clock, December 4, at the First Methodist Church under auspices of Wesleyan Service Guild.

Added responsibilities and loss of sleep while traveling thousands of miles annually on a bus with these exuberant Waylanders bothers him little. Only a calm disposition like his could meet the emergencies which abound once the group starts traveling. But lack of punctuality on the part of a singer can bring a near catastrophe because Mr. Collier is a show man who believes that "the show must go on" at the stated time.

"Shelby" as he is affectionately called by his singers, who continue to write him confiding letters and to send unusual gifts later, has made the impossible possible since he took over at Wayland College in 1948 as instructor of voice and conductor of a non-existent choral organization. The persuasive personality of President Bill Marshall had made him see visions of a choir that would rank with the best and he left conservative First Baptist Church, Austin, to pioneer on the plains of Texas.

In four years, the International Choir has won recognition from music critics and audiences which invite them back for repeat performances. They have acquired an extensive wardrobe of authentic costumes, unmatched in many cases outside of museums and now valued at more than $4,000, largely because of the faith and enthusiasm of this man. The 1952-53 choir will sing in 11 languages.

Who is this man who performed a near miracle in so short a time?
Prof. Collier holds the M. M. degree from the University of Texas and the B. M. from Southern Methodist University. He studied sacred music at Southwestern Baptist Seminary and choral directing at College of Music of Cincinnati. As minister of music and education in outstanding Baptist churches in Dallas, Paris, Austin and New Orleans, he prepared himself un-knowingly for this job at Wayland College.

He is not only a musician but an artist of no mean talent. Mr.
Collier is an instructor of art at Wayland College and they like nothing better than a vacation together where they can do sketching and painting in oils.

Bufs To Try for Season's Fourth Victory Saturday

Frank Kimbrough's West Texas

might against that of Midwestern of the 18th Congressional District

The Job of the Next Congress

Although much has been said on all subjects of national importance during the past several months in the election campaigns, it must always be remembered that there are three divisions in our democratic form of government, each of equal importance.

These are the Executive Branch, the Legislative Branch, and the Judicial Branch.

The Legislative Branch, which is the Congress, is the branch that is always closest to the people, and it is through this branch that the voice of the people must be heard and reflected. It is this branch that also writes the laws that are subsequently administered by the Executive Department and passed upon from a legal standpoint by the Judicial Branch.

The 83rd Congress, which convenes January 3, 1953, will be confronted with some of the most tremendous problems that have faced a legislative body in many years. These problems will be both domestic and international.

The domestic problems will concern expenses of the Government, taxation, labor laws, immigration laws, economic control laws, agricultural programs, public lands, banking and currency, the judicial system, veterans' affairs, communications, transportation and an endless number of others.

Of these, probably the two most important at the present time are the expenses of the government and taxation. On the international scene it would be most difficult to point out the many items that must come up for consideration. However, it would appear that the most important matters in this field are the early settlement of the Korean War (which in my opinion is the number one project for this country and the world), the theory of the United Nations, the consolidation of the free peoples' front against communism, and world trade.

The question of government expenses on the domestic front of course ties in directly with the international program for the reason that approximately seven-eighths of the budget is earmarked for military or semi-military purposes. By this I mean the great bulk of the budget goes to pay for the preparedness program, a sizable slice is required for the payment of foreign aid, and another sizable slice for the payment of our obligations to the veterans of this country.

I have continually fought for economy in all phases of our expenditures and I sincerely hope that the 83rd Congress will be successful in reducing these expenditures to the extent that the much needed tax relief will be forthcoming to the individual taxpayer.

There is of course such a thing as false economy and I am sure that no one in the Congress would feel that the preparedness programs should be reduced to the extent that it would place us in the danger zone. The goal that should be sought is greater efficiency in the armed services and a cutting down of every possible practice that is not contributing directly to the program.

This same kind of economy can be practiced in the general government expenditures and long strides were made in that direction by the last Congress. There has been some repercussions from the cuts that we made in appropriations, but these have been relatively small. There has been no curtailment of services because of these cuts, and it is my opinion that we can go further in trimming general government expenditures without impairing the services.

When these cuts are effected, it will mean that an additional large number of employees will be taken from the federal payroll. I feel that the reduction of the federal payroll is a must for two reasons.

First, it will be a major step in the direction of reduced government expenses.

Secondly, it will provide potential employees in many fields of private enterprise where there is at present shortages of help.

One of the major tasks of the new Congress will be to see that the individual taxpayer gets the benefit of any reduction in Government costs. By this I mean that when a reduction is made, the funds saved thereby should not be transferred to another division, another department, or another section of the Government; the benefit should go to the man who has been paying the bill the American taxpayer.

This and all other problems reflected above are responsibilities of the Congress, the representatives of the people.

These responsibilities cannot be shifted to the Executive or the Judicial. They rest squarely on the shoulders of Congress, and it is that body that can and must meet them and work out the problems.

Unity of the entire nation is as essential in working out this job as it is in meeting the communist threat, and regardless of who serves as President, it is my hope and desire that the entire nation will unify and meet these challenges.

The Halloween party and program Friday night at the school house was attended by a large crowd. There were witches and goblins to greet people on every corner. Weird sounds could be heard at intervals throughout the evening. A number of games were played by young and old after which a good program was rendered by the school and the outsiders. Then there were three reels of moving pictures shown on the new projector the community has recently purchased.

The first picture shown was all about Texas and the second was a tour through the famous Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. The third one was about California. They were all good. At a late hour refreshments of cheese and cracker sandwiches, cookies, popcorn balls and coffee and cocoa were served to the crowd.

Memories of the good old Cotton Palace days in Waco are recalled by a lady who wrote in the Mart Herald some years ago:

"The buildings at the old Cotton Palace have been sold and will be torn down in the near future." To the unthinking or to the stranger this notice in a recent edition of the Waco Paper was only a statement; but to one, who from early childhood had looked forward each year to the big show staged in the Cotton Palace grounds, it is no less than the knell of death to a long cherished dream that I, too, might some day, be a duchess, dressed in satin and pearls, escorted by some handsome 'Prince Charming,' walking across the stage, with the eyes of all turned toward me, some in admiration, others in envy.

From earliest childhood the event of the year was the day when dad and mother, dressed in their Sunday best, John and Mary, un-naturally clean and slicked up, got up before the light of day to start on the trip to Waco to the Cotton Palace. A lunch was carried... I can just smell that fried chicken and beaten biscuit now. The man with the balloons of rainbow hues — we must have one. The feeling of dismay when we realized some one had punctured our balloon and we were only carrying a stick. Memories of the 'flying ginny,' the 'old mill,' and the other wonderful rides and shows on the Midway bring a nostalgia for the days that have passed.

"For those who were of that mind, grand opera was the high point of the week and many famous artists appeared on the stage of the old coliseum. Never again!"

Abusive Letters Received by News

The News has received the following unsigned letter:

Mr. Warwick, you are one of the worst enemies to Canyon or any other town that could ever live. If I was a man I would beat the devil out of you. Why did you put Roosevelt's name and picture and say that he endorsed Eisenhower? The public should sue you for slander.

You cannot quote a dead man. Where is your common sense? Please beg the public's pardon or you will hear more about this.

Unsigned.

(Under ordinary circumstances this unsigned letter would have been tossed into the waste paper basket and not referred to. Since this is election year, if the writer of this letter will read a little history, and listen to statements, he will find that the statement referred to is correct. No less personage than John Roosevelt, son of the late president, stated in every Texas speech that his father chose Eisenhower above all men. And besides this, The News did not write the statement; it came in as a paid advertisement, and spoke the truth. If this person thinks that he or she or IT has been slandered, the court house is only a few steps away, and Judge Bishop is ready for business. At any rate, thank the Lord this is not Russia where Joe Stalin, or the writer of unsigned letters can tell any newspaper what it can print. For 42 years The Newsman has lived and worked for Canyon, and will probably be living in Canyon and working for the best interests of Randall county long after the writer of this letter rots in his or her grave.)

ZITA HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB ELECTS NEW PRESIDENT

The Zita Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. H. D. Rose Tuesday, October 28. Mrs. Wayland Angel presided, in the absence of Mrs. Emil Olson, president. Mrs. Donald Olson acted as secretary.

A note from Palo Duro Club was read by Mrs. Balie McCormick thanking the Zita club for tea given in their honor.

Routine annual reports were given by committees. A family dinner was planned and Mrs. E. A. Michael was appointed to select a place to have it.

The annual election of officers was held. Mrs. Forrest Gruner will assume the presidency at the first of the year, succeeding Mrs. Emil Olson. Mrs. Arthur Olson was elected vice-president. Mrs. Glenn Truax, secretary, and Mrs. Wayland Angel, treasurer, stay in office one more year. Council reporter for the new term is Mrs. Donald Olson; clothing demonstrator is Mrs. Emil Olson; food demonstrator, Mrs. Donald Olson; parliamentary, Mrs. Emil Olson; reporter, Mrs. Glenn Truax.

Mrs. Ralph Ruthart, as program chairman, had each member display a gift she had enjoyed making or receiving for Christmas.

The hostess served a delicious refreshment plate to the following members: Mesdames Angel, McCormick, Gruner, Michael, Arthur Olson, Donald Olson, Ralph Ruthart, Marshall Rockwell, Sr., and Glenn Truax.

TWELVE MEMBERS WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MEET FOR STUDY

The Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary met in regular session in the home of Mrs. A. E. Brown last week with 12 members present.

The meeting was opened by the singing of "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and the giving of "The Lord's Prayer" in unison. Minutes were read and approved of the last meeting. Business of the day was transacted and a free-will offering taken.

Mrs. Nancy McCaslin gave the worship services from the book, "Christ the Word," and from the 13th chapter of John, read by Mrs. C. R. Burrow.

Lovely refreshments of pumpkin pie with whipped cream, hot coffee, nuts and candy were served by the hostess during the social hour.

PARK H. D. CLUB HOLDS ITS FOOD ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

The Park Home Demonstration Club held its Foods Achievement program on October 30 in the home of Mrs. L. J. Raymond. The club was also hostess to the Central Club at this time.

After skits from both clubs, yeast breads were judged.

At the social hour refreshments were served to Mesdames W. E. Ford, Geo. Barker, Van Pennington, P. L. Pitt, R. H. Long, C. G. Danner, Rae Walters, Lydia Matzler, Levi Cole, Lillie Foster, Veltan Sogee, Fred Marshall, J. C. Hutchinson, Mae Johnson, and Miss Lou Ella Patterson, guests; and Mesdames Art McCandless, L. Winters, A. B. Ruggles, G. A. Colling, Flynn Winters, H. A. Simon, Elmer Winters, Carl Mayberry, Frank Simon, and the hostess, members of the Park Club.

Some Republican Senators are starting to take a close look at the U. S. Government bureaucracy built up in Europe since the end of the war. This bureaucracy, outside the military, has increased about tenfold—a fact that is getting the eye of economizers.

COTILLION HOLDS MEETING

The Cotillion Club held its weekly dance class Wednesday night under the supervision of Miss Peggy Lou Snider in the Little House of Fellowship, which was dimly lighted with Jack-o-Lanterns and candles.

A 15 minute business meeting was called to order by the president, Bob Wilkinson. Plans for the Christmas dance were discussed.

During the social period refreshments consisting of Jack-o-Lantern sandwiches, cookies, and hot chocolate were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Warren Parker, and Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, to 20 members and two guests.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander in Korea, incurred the displeasure of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff by pressing for the training of 10 new divisions of South Korean troops so that American divisions could be relieved of front-line fighting. The Joint Chiefs not long ago "leaked" information that they expected General Van Fleet to retire from command.

Robert Lovett, Secretary of Defense, finds that he has been able to show less authority since he announced that he definitely would leave office when President Truman steps down. The scramble for position among military services and among individuals in those services started with that announcement.

American security officials remain wary about British precautions to guard military secrets. It now develops that secret details of one of Britain's newest jet fighters turned up in U. S. and Swiss publications before the plane had been flown.

More Money Will Be Requested by Health Department

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox intends to put a copy of a resolution urging increased operating funds and better working facilities for the State Health Department in the hands of "all interested persons."

The resolution, calling for legislative appropriation of 62 cents per capita for public health, was passed September 22 by the State Board of Health. Current appropriations amount to 20 cents per capita.

Based on a population of 7,750,000, 62 cents per capita would yield $4,805,000 in operating funds for the money-short department, the resolution points out, providing "sufficient money to hold together the present development and an opportunity for conservative expansion."

Part of the expansion, according to Dr. Cox, would be a research laboratory.

"The way things are now, we either neglect research work, or ask our friends in other states to conduct work for us, and that is limited," the health officer said.

He said he was "only trying to build for the state a program that will give people the best and the most in public health."

Present laboratory facilities are housed in a 25 year old brick building on East Fifth Street, adjacent to the million dollar State Health Department building which was built in 1943.

Shelters for experimental animals occupy a large portion of laboratory space. Operating space for several divisions of laboratory activity are crowded together.

The State Board of Health described identification, prevention, and economic control of disease as the "greatest essential need at the present time."

To meet the need, the Board made available $400,000 of federal hospital survey and construction funds which the Board administrators, with the understanding the Legislature would contribute an equal amount toward a new laboratory research building.

"It is the considered judgment of the State Board of Health," the resolution reads, "that to request of the Legislature an appropriation of funds in the amount of $4,805,000 is without question amply justified."

What the British scientists really demonstrated with their atomic test in Australia was that a harbor could be blown up by remote control. British military men have worried for some time about the danger of ships from Communist countries that could dock in British harbors with atom bombs concealed in their hulls to be exploded by radio from a point miles away. It seems that this is a danger.

Honolulu, the capital of the Hawaiian Islands, is located on the island of Oahu.

Notice how peaceful everything is?

Even the pollsters stayed off of dangerous limbs this time, so they aren't having to scream alibis as they did in 1948.

It was a good rousing fight, and most of us enjoyed it. Getting worked up over something besides baseball, taxes and t.v. gave us a needed change, restored our perspective. And what if we did say some pretty harsh things — about the candidates, their families, their friends, our neighbors who were voting the other way?

They knew when they got into a national election they'd get their noses rubbed in the dirt. No harm intended, of course. We just like to make it hard for decent people to stay decent and still run for office. And it they're thin-skinned it was best we knew it; they'd never last through four years if they couldn't take a right to the chin and still come out of the ring smiling.

Starting Wednesday, we had half expected a deluge of diatribes and left-over epithets to come clattering down around us. After the current of hot air which kept them suspended these past few months was cut off, we thought those glittering generalities that have been shot into space would settle to earth.

But apparently all that pre-election propaganda has gone the way of space ships, and now we're ready to remember we're Americans.

In another month, no doubt, we'll all be wondering how the peoples of South America and Europe could possibly have got the idea we have no confidence in the man who has been elected President of the United States!

BATTLES ANTELOPE

Lewiston, Mont. — Allan Van Horne missed an antelope with five shots, while out hunting recently. The enraged animal charged him and Van Horn grabbed the animal's horns, rodeo style, and wrestled him to the ground. There he stayed, with one foot on the antelope's horns and the other on his neck, until another hunter came along and took Alan off the hours of a dilemma by cutting the animal's throat.

LIQUOR BILL

Americans spend about the same amount of money for liquor, tobacco and smoking supplies that they do for health and medical services, the President's Health Commission has been told. Emerson P. Schmidt, director of economic research for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, said 1951 spending for medical services totaled about $13,500,000,000 while the bill for alcoholic beverages, tobacco and smoking supplies was around $13,200,000,000.

CLOTHING

Recalling the tragedies which occurred during the fall and winter months of last year, men and women are urged to guard themselves and their families from serious, perhaps fatal, clothing burns in shopping for new fall clothes by demanding sweaters and clothing which have passed flammability tests.

SIMPLE ARITHMETIC

"I suppose, like many other husbands, you can't say what your wife pays for her hats and dresses."

"Oh, yes, I can — too much."

"But, joking aside, have you ever stopped to figure out how much your wife's clothes cost you?"

"It isn't necessary. I simply add my income to what I owe."

COMPLETELY ENWRAPPED

"I like to see a man completely wrapped up in his work," declares an employer. He would have thoroughly enjoyed watching us wall-paper the spare room the other day.

The French are spreading the word that Germany, if given a chance, would have 1.2 million men under arms by 1954. This sounds alarming to French ears but sounds fine to some American military officials who are trying to figure out how Europe could be defended if the Russians ever move.

The military command in Washington is coming under intense pressure to permit training of more South Korean troops so that Americans will have to do less fighting.

President Truman is more and more tempted by offers to become a commentator on public questions after he leaves the White House. Some big-figure offers are in the wind, both for writing and for broadcasting by radio and TV. Mr. Truman really doesn't have to work for a living after he steps out of office but prefers to do so.

Winston Churchill, Britain's Prime Minister, has begun his bargaining for an exchange of atomic secrets with U. S. by giving Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, U. S. Air Force Chief of Staff, a limited briefing on results of Britain's atomic test. Churchill idea appears to be to whet the appetite of U. S. officials so they will ask for more.

SUN PRINCESS CANDIDATES

Nelda Ruthart, 18 year old freshman from Canyon who is majoring in Education, was elected West Texas State College Sun Princess for 1952 by the student body in assembly Thursday in the Ad Building Auditorium.

Nelda is a graduate of Canyon High School where she was Band Queen attendant, Football Queen attendant, and FFA Queen attendant. The election of the five-foot, five-inch, brown haired, green eyed, princess is typical of what can be accomplished by this year's freshman class with their never-failing MISCONSTRUED

MISCONSTRUED

After much pleading Hayes had managed to "touch" his friend for a loan.

When it was safely in his possession he said:

"You are very kind to lend me this pound. I feel that I can never repay you."

His friend stared hard at him. "Why the dickens didn't you say that at first?" she exclaimed.

MORE UNEMPLOYMENT

Forbes magazine tells of a youngster who liked his first day at school and increased in his liking for it throughout the week, so that when Friday came he was put out to learn from the teacher that there would be no school on Saturday or Sunday. When he got home his mother asked why he looked so depressed. "Darn it," he complained, "I've been laid off for two days."

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Buffalo quarterback Kenneth Clapp has been chosen as the athlete of the week. Clapp was chosen for his performance in the game with Arizona State at Tempe. He accounted for the full fourteen points scored by the Buffs. This is the first year Clapp has played quarterback on a T-formation team. For a novice at the job he has turned in an excellent performance all season. Kenneth played and lettered three years in football, basketball two years, baseball and track four years, while attending Berger High School. Although he has not decided on a major yet, Clapp's ambition is to do Agricultural work.

Local Chapter Joins National F. H. A. Week

National F. H. A. week is a high spot in all local Future Homemakers of America chapters. The Canyon chapter is celebrating this week, November 1-7, with 893 chapters in the state and 39,489 other members.

Saturday, November 1, approximately 50 girls worked at the high school in the homemaking department in one hour shifts. They polished and worked on new drapes for the living room.

Sunday, November 2, 80 girls went to the First Methodist Church to worship as a group. Monday a group of officers, Caroline Morton, Peggy Bonds, Billie Graham, and Louise Hunter, presented the superintendent of schools, Joe A. Gibson, with a bouquet of red roses, the National F. H. A. flower.

Tuesday has been designated as "No Gripe Day" with all the girls. Wednesday is an assembly program but the original program, "The Emblem Service" has been postponed until November 18.

Thursday will be the night all freshmen will be initiated at a reception given at the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. Friday has been delegated as Kodak Day to get pictures for scrap books and news.

No homemaking department is complete without an F. H. A. club and every girl enrolled in homemaking needs to belong to a local chapter.

The purposes of F. H. A. are: (1) To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of homemaking; (2) To emphasize the importance of worthy home membership; (3) To encourage democracy in home and community

VISITING GENERAL

GENERAL STANLEY R. MICKELSEN

General Will Pay Informal Visit To West Texas ROTC Unit Thursday

Major General Stanley R. Mickelsen, commanding general, Anti-aircraft Artillery and Guided Missile Center, Fort Bliss, will visit the WT Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit next Thursday, according to Lt. Col. Raymond H. Lumry, professor of military science and tactics.

General Mickelsen's visit "will not be an inspection, but an informal visit," with a purpose of becoming more familiar with the problems confronting the ROTC program. He is paying similar visits to other college units, and here at WT, General Mickelsen will observe and make suggestions for possible improvements.

Arriving at about 1:50 p. m. at Amarillo Air Force Base, the general will be met and escorted to the WT campus by Col. Lumry. He will have a conference with President James P. Cornette, as the first item on his campus agenda.

Drill activities of the WT unit Thursday afternoon will be observed, and Col. Lumry will introduce General Mickelsen to the advanced students. The general will inspect ROTC facilities at the college and will confer with the military staff.

want to represent their districts and their state, and they can't know what you are thinking unless you keep them informed.

Maybe you ought to write your new President. Not only in Washington, but also in Austin, your representatives are going to be wrestling with problems that concern you.

A session of the Legislature will convene in January. The state senators and representatives will come here for the purpose of passing laws that will tax you for the purpose of raising funds to carry on state services.

Other laws will regulate the way you do business and the way you live. Your representatives in Austin, as in Washington, would like to hear how you are thinking about these matters.

What I am saying is that the voter, as quoted by the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, is wrong if he thinks he has done his best merely by voting on Tuesday, November 4.

Rotarians Touch Lions 26-14 in Touch Football

Friday night's football game between the Lions and Rotarians was supposed to be touch but the after-effects show the touch to be quite heavy. The Rotarians were victorious by a score believed to be 26 to 14. Aches and pains took precedence and nobody seemed to be sure just what the score was.

According to a report received at The News, many of the wives of the players had such chores on their hands as rubbing sore muscles and helping the fellows about the house the following day. One of the Rotarians who stood up under the strain of the game quite well was Don Standley. Dr. Dudley Moore and Truett Hull were among those with sore muscles.

Bill Sternberg appears to be the Lion who suffered most from sore muscles and over-exertion. "They nearly killed me," said Mr. Sternberg after it was all over.

Among the small crowd of spectators watching the game were: Mrs. Dudley Moore, Mrs. Bill Sternberg, Mrs. Gene McGlasson, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Troth, and two nurses from Neblett Hospital, Miss Rossiter and Miss Gieseke.

CAN YOU GET MORE FROM YOUR DOCTOR'S CARE?

Some folks think that they should not consult a physician until they are badly hurt or very sick. Then they expect to get well — at once.

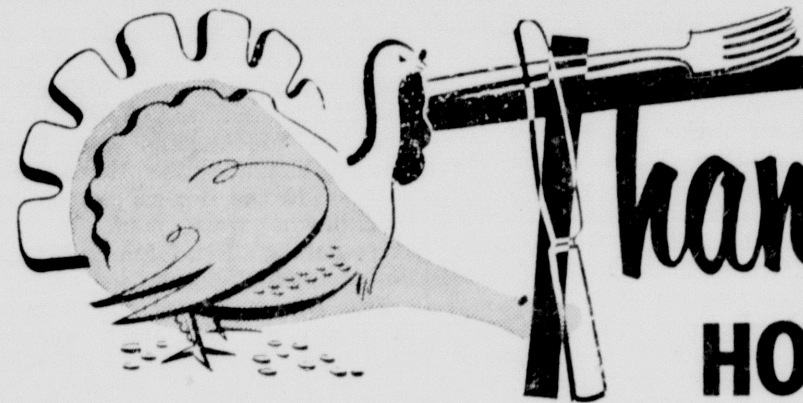

The better plan is to see your Doctor regularly for a physical check-up. He will then know your system and its needs, and treat you with accurate knowledge.

And more, he will consider you a regular and valued patient, entitled to his best. See your Doctor often, and know him well.

Carnival Queen Contest
Journalism and Annual... $150.17
Coronation Ceremony

Each of the lower grades, each high school class and every different organization of CHS did their part in making the carnival a success by contributing an interesting activity for the benefit of everyone.

Booths were set up in the gyms and various spots on the campus. The freshman booth was a Novelty Sales erected in the Canyon Grade School gym. The sophomores had a confetti stand, and by the looks of the floors and everyone's hair, there was an abundance of it. Also, the sophomores sponsored the roller skating in the CHS gym. The junior's snack bar in the cafeteria brought people to the carnival early, as did the other booths displaying food. An auction table was run by the seniors. There was a great variety of articles to be auctioned, ranging from nylon sock covers to cocker spaniel dogs.

The yell leaders' booth was for the purpose of selling eagle reflector plates. FHA girls sponsored a fortune telling booth and also sold eider and doughnuts. The FFA boys got a kick from their dunking booth; mainly because Georgia Lee Nelson, June Wortham, Laura Smith, and Peggy Bonds were the victims. The "Mad Doctor" was a hideous operation by a quack doctor who forced his patient to eat his own eyeballs. Joe Dickerson was the "surgeon" with Jo Ann Mickey as his assistant. They were supported by the band. FTA ran an "Old Fashion Candy Shop," and the Spanish Club presented a freak show.

The Eagle's Tale staff and the annual staff sponsored the carnival queen contest and the coronation ceremony, which were the top events of the evening and around which the carnival itself revolved.

All organizations received 50 percent of the proceeds, and the other half went to the worthy cause of P-TA.

Among the many privileges of the students of Canyon High, on of lesser importance, yet prominent within itself, is the pep rally.

A pep rally is a meeting of a loyal unified group of supporters for the purpose of backing a team.

Pep rallies in CHS are not held for the purpose of beating on the back of seats for attention in front or booing at everything that is said. In contrast the pep rally displays and promotes the spirit the spectators have for the team. Discourtesy is evident when one continues to holler out of turn, beat on anything handy and boo.

It has been the custom of our Fight Song to sing it at the end school since adopting the "Eagles" of every pep rally. This is a means of climaxing the spirited assembly.

Such remarks as "Speech, speech and the like is a showing of ill breeding."

If you, as students want to continue to have the privilege of enjoying the pep rally, let's try to be a little more courteous and show the spirit that really counts.

A naturalized citizen has the same rights as one native-born, except that he cannot vote.

Smith, Dane Bring Varieties to School

Jack Smith and Ann Dane presented one of the most versatile and novel programs being offered today in a Southern School assembly Monday, November 3. Mr. Smith has been a successful entertainer for more than 20 years; appearing on radio, television, and in schools throughout the country. Miss Dane is a talented and finished musician. She is a graduate of Detroit's Cass Tech Music Department and was formerly with the Velma Froud Melody Maids.

Their program was arranged in five parts: novelty, musical, mental telepathy, electrical wonders, canine capers, and ventriloquism.

The musical act consisted of a saxophone duet, solos on a glass clarinet, a small four hole harmonica, and a tonette. These selections range from modern classics to symphony and American folk tunes to the latest in jazz.

The electrical wonders were of stunning bewilderment in which light was produced from the body of Miss Dane with the assistance of a student from the audience.

Canine capers introduced Tiny Tinker and his pal, Bashful Buddy, who performed many cute and difficult tricks.

Mr. Smith presented a fascinating variety of ventriloquism, introduced Elmer, with a line of patter rarely offered by the average ventriloquist.

LARRY STROUP, JUNE DAVIS WINNERS OF SOPH SOCK HOP

Buttons and bows were the winners in the sophomore class sock hop held in the cafeteria Tuesday evening, October 28. The button and bows stockings were worn by Larry Stroup and June Davis.

Before you entered the cafeteria you had to check your shoes at the door and go on in your stocking feet.

All of the class enjoyed a scavenger hunt, relay races and games of different kinds. After the games refreshments of cookies, sandwiches, and punch were served by the room parents.

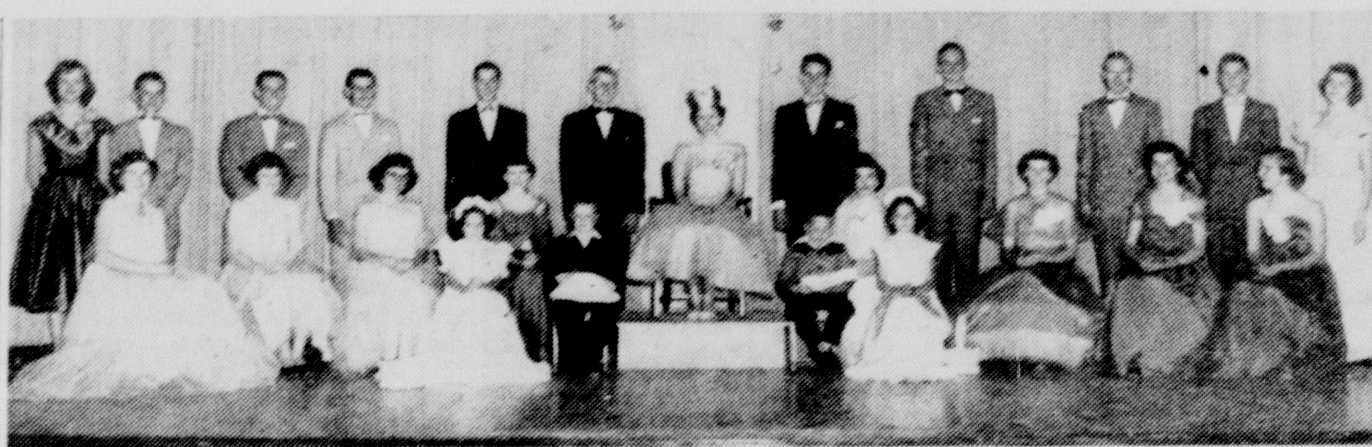

ARLEN RUTHART

When the final ballot had been cast and the smoke had cleared from the elections, John Miller and Arlen Ruthart had been elected president and vice-president of the Student Faculty Congress of Canyon High School for the 1952-53 session.

John succeeds Jimmie Cornette, last year's president, and Arlen succeeds John, as last year's vice-president.

John was born in Canyon on July 16, 1935. Since his enrollment into high school, he has been an active member of his class. Demons Down CHS Eagles 53-0

At the annual Dumas homecoming game, the Canyon Eagles were clobbered by the Dumas Demons by a score of 53-0. This was the first time the Demons won their homecoming game.

Canyon chose to receive the kick-off, but lost the ball after the fourth down. Canyon punted to Dumas. This was the start of the Demon's victory march.

During the first quarter the Demons ran three tallies and made three extra points. T. D. Fleether, Joel Lummons, and Keith Mixon ran the touchdowns and Corky Randolph made the three extra points. In the second quarter two touchdowns were made, but no extra points. Randolph and Danny Beilue made these tallies count.

The Demons were not running so freely in the third quarter. Only one touchdown was made and the extra point. Randolph ran the tally and made the conversion.

Andy Hick and Lawton Gutrie carried the ball over the goal line in the fourth quarter to make the total of eight touchdowns for Dumas. Randolph kicked for the extra points, but only one was good. Dumas made a total of 249 yards rushing and 18 first downs. The Eagles made only one first down and 97 yards rushing. This defeat ends the Eagles' non-conference games for the season.

of the freshman class, has played three years on the A team in football and played B team his freshman year. The basketball season will find John in his third year as a member of the team, and he has been a part of the track team for two years.

He said he was "simply mortified" with the outcome, because he knew it would be a close contest.

Arlen, like John, was born in Canyon. His birthday is on December 27, 1935. Arlen was president of the sophomore class, a member of the A team in football for two years, B team one year, basketball A team one year, and hopes to be on the A team this year, and a member of the freshman team his freshman year. He said he was "surprised" with the outcome.

Campaign managers vie for top places in the Student Faculty Congress hot presidential nominee race. The campaign speeches were made before the student body in assembly October 29 in the auditorium.

Each candidate's campaign manager and committee were given chances to tell how great their candidates were and what wonderful changes would be made if they were elected. One committee even passed out bubble gum to show what it would be like if its candidate was elected.

US Marine Band Oldest in History

"The President's Own," the United States Marine Band, blessed the WTSC campus in two concerts Wednesday, October 29.

The band is 154 years old and is the oldest military symphonic musical organization in the country. It was organized in 1798 by an act of Congress. It has played for every major function in the White House since its housewarming in 1801, when John Adams was president, and has performed at the inauguration of every president since Thomas Jefferson.

The 1952 trans-continental tour will carry it for 10,000 miles. The tours started when the band was under the direction of John Philip Sousa, world-renowned composer and director.

Members of the CHS band and journalism class listened to a program of stirring music selected by Lt. Col. William F. Santelmann, director.

If you look close enough you can see what happened to me. So keep on the ball young fellows and gals and study hard. And really, it is not very advisable to skip classes.

Dark and dreary was the night.
A storm was drawing nigh.
In vivid streaks the lightning flashed,
Across the darkening sky.
And then from out of the lonely woods,
There steals a vengeful man.

A blood-stained club is firmly grasped,
Within his strong right hand.
And like a demon from the underworld
He glides upon his foe.

A murderous look is in his eyes
As he makes ready for the blow
The club is raised, and then
It falls with a sickening thud
And there upon the cold, dark ground,
Lies murdered . . .
A potato bug

Sophomores Are Runners-up With Bettie Glanton; Seniors, Fish Close

With the glittering of her sequined dress, Billie Graham was proudly escorted down the aisle to be crowned 1952 Queen of Halloween. The coronation was presented in the Canyon High auditorium on the eve of October 30. It was the highlight that topped the evening of fun at the annual Halloween carnival held in the Canyon Grade School gymnasium.

Joe A. Gibson, superintendent of Canyon Public Schools, opened the ceremony with a welcome to every guest. There was a brief fanfare and Marilyn A. Payne, sponsor of journalism in CHS, announced editor and assistant editor of the Eagles Tale, Lady Barbara of the House of Winters and Lord Ralph of the House of Green. Ralph stepped to the microphone of master of ceremonies and introduced the following procession in their respective order.

Queen Billie of the House of Graham escorted with honor by King Joe of the House of White proceeded to the throne after an honoring fanfare, where his majesty bowed low with loyalty to the queen.

With the authority invested to Ralph Green as master of ceremonies, he crowned her queen of Halloween. A cheer of honor and enthusiasm rose up from the crowd as co-editor, Barbara Winters, presented Queen Billie her gift, a beautiful rhinestone expansion bracelet. Her majesty thanked her loyal subjects.

A command performance in honor of her majesty followed. A duet, "Some Enchanted Evening," by Rodgers, was sung by Shirley Peppard and Dorothy Neblett. Following numbers were: A quartet, "The Best Things in Life Are Free" by De Sylva, presented by Nora Dell Ruthart, Ann Holt, Beverly Soll, Patsy Vandergriff.

The girl's vocal ensemble sang "Vilia" by Lehar. The ensemble was made up of Mary Owens, Janelle Cunningham, Rita Jo Crow, Shirley Glenn, Billene Childers, Ruby Lee Harris, Laura Kinney, Wilda Faye Pitt, Nancy Bolton, Sue Ann Kinney, Shirley White, Ruby Williams.

A sextet, composed of Sue Daniels, Peggy Sewell, Norma Thurman, Ray Green, Edell Money, and Bob Wilkinson, sang "The Little Church Around the Corner" by Romberg. Ralph Green entertained the queen and her royal court with a twirling act.

Other members of the royal party were Lady Camilla of the House of Davis, Lord Joe of the House of Dickerson, Lady Frances of the House of Cunningham, Lord Lawrence of the House of Hermesmyer, Lady Edwina of the House of Caskey, Lord Ted of the House of Briggs, Lady Grace of the House of Sheets, Lord Ken of the House of Kuykendall.

Bearer of the crown was Larry Brent Taylor; bearer of the gift was Danny O'Donald; and flower girls were Judy Stevenson and Karen Stoelzing.

Fifty-ninth Anniversary Celebrated in Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMurray

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH H. McMURRAY

Joseph H. McMurray and Ona E. Mobley were married October 1, 1893, at Hillsboro, Hill County, Texas. During the 59 years of their married life 12 children were born to them. They are J. Arthur, Oscar, Paul H., Ona Mae, Ruby Lee, Mary Ruth, Nancy Caroline, Mobley, Homer, Nora Rosella, C. L. and Florence Irene. This family circle has been broken by the death of three of the children: Callie, Mobley, and Nora Rosella.

Last July the entire family met at the family home for a reunion. Mr. McMurray was 82 years of age last March 10th. Mrs. McMurray was 76 last January 26th. They moved to Canyon 16 years ago last September from Floydada, where they had lived 22 years, having moved there from Hillsboro. For two years they lived in Erath County near Hico, and then for a period they lived at Merkel in Taylor County.

The consecrated Christian lives of Mr. and Mrs. McMurray have proved to be a guide, influence and inspiration to their children, friends and all those with whom they have been associated.

They now live at their home, 1408 Seventh Avenue, with their daughter, Ona Mae.

Chiang Kai-shek's offer of divisions of Nationalist Chinese troops for service in Korea will be accepted by early 1953. It is dawn upon U. S. diplomats that there is something strange about their policy that prevents a member of the United Nations from fighting in a United Nations war when it wants to fight. Some members of the United Nations remain in good standing while trying openly to sabotage the U. N. war.

Russia is insisting that all Russian translators and interpreters for the United Nations be Soviet citizens. Up to now most of those jobs have been held by those fleeing Communism. U. N. examinations for the jobs now are being held in Russia—and only in Russia.

Military planners see only a "slight" reduction in the size of U. S. armed forces in the year to begin next July 1. Those forces at present are about 3.6 million men.
